WIJSF presents concerts, workshops, and panel discussions to educate students and adults about women musicians. We presented students from Parkway Middle School of the Arts Jazz Band and Vocal Ensemble at community concerts and senior centers. We have video footage to create a documentary from concerts and interviews with students, teachers, parents and friends to show the importance of music studies for well-rounded students that become functioning adults in today's society. Also, we have produced three compilation CDs of original music of female composers, released in January 2010, 2012, and 2013, with a fourth being compiled to be released in January 2014.
